Clarence Sterling Huber
Private First Class U.S. Army
16 November 1944 – 17 December 1945

Clarence was born on 10 August 1919 in Pennsville, Northampton County, Pennsylvania. He later moved to Lower Macungie Township on Macungie RFD#1 and attended grades 1 to 7 at Kiechel's school in Lower Macungie until 1934. He went to work for Lehigh Valley Dairy in Allentown, Pennsylvania, on 4 April 1940 as a steam condenser operator and a drier operator for making powdered milk. He worked at the dairy until he was drafted into the Army at New Cumberland, Pennsylvania, as a Private on 16 November 1944. He was then sent to Camp Wheeler near Macon, Georgia, for basic training and advanced training for performing guard duties. In April 1945 Clarence was ordered overseas to the European/Africa/Middle Eastern (EAME) Theater of Operations. He arrived in Theater on 28 April 1945 on the troop ship USAT George Washington and was assigned to Company M, 112th Infantry Regiment, 28th Infantry Division, for the remainder of World War II.

USAT George Washington

He served in Theater as a Guard and Patrolman, performing various guard duties including guarding bridges, military installations, and prisoners of war during the occupation of Julich and Kaiserlautern in Germany. As part of the demobilization of troops in Europe, Clarence returned to the States and was discharged as a Private First Class at Camp Atterbury, Indiana, on 17 December 1945. He returned to Lower Macungie for a while, moved to Allentown, Pennsylvania, in 1946, and returned to work for the Lehigh Valley Dairy until his retirement in 1984. Clarence married Margaret M. Shive (24 June 1920 – 1 March 1987) in 1939. They lived in Allentown until 1975 when they moved to and settled in Lower Macungie Township. Clarence's brother Leroy Arthur Huber also served in the Army during World War II. Clarence's parents were William E. Huber (28 December 1893 – 19 July 1979) and Florence L. C. Stein (2 May 1894 – 11 June 1979).
